

Lecturer in Environmental Sciences

Department of Environmental Sciences

University of California, Riverside

The Department of Environmental Sciences at UC Riverside invites applications for a Lecturer position beginning Fall Quarter 2018. Applicants must have demonstrated experience or show strong promise in University/College teaching. Applicants must have expertise in economics and environmental sciences. Candidate must possess a M.S. or M.A. degree or higher in economics, environmental sciences, or related field. Applicants with teaching experience or expertise in environmental economics are preferred and are encouraged to apply. Candidates with a Ph.D are encouraged to apply.

UCR is a world-class research university with an exceptionally diverse undergraduate student body. Its mission is explicitly linked to providing routes to educational success for underrepresented and first-generation college students. A commitment to this mission is a preferred qualification.

Advancement as a represented Non-Senate Faculty (NSF) Lecturer at the University of California is dependent upon reappointment. For more information about advancement and reappointment as a member of Unit 18, please review the current Unit 18 Labor Contract.

Applicants should submit a cover letter, curriculum vitae, statement of teaching, statement of contribution to diversity, teaching evaluations, and provide three reference letters to <https://aprecruit.ucr.edu/apply/JPF00935> by July 25, 2018 for full consideration. Minorities and members of underrepresented groups are particularly encouraged to apply.

Review of applications will commence on July 26, 2018. For inquiries regarding the position, please contact the Search Committee Chair, Professor James Sickman at james.sickman@ucr.edu. For inquiries regarding the application process, please contact Christine Browner at christine.browner@ucr.edu.

The University of California is an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action Employer. All qualified applicants will receive consideration for employment without regard to race, color, religion, sex, sexual orientation, gender identity, national origin, age, disability, protected veteran status, or any other characteristic protected by law.